

Welcome to our monthly newswire designed to keep you informed of the latest issues. Please contact us if you have any questions. Remember, we're here to help.

Father who dodged maintenance barred from selling house

A father who owes more than £78,000 in child maintenance has been blocked from selling his holiday home under new enforcement measures.

Click here for the full story

When is an office a house?

A building designed as a house but exclusively used as an office is a "house" for leasehold enfranchisement purposes.

Click here for the full story

Under investment in anti-corruption scheme by UK businesses

Companies have failed to invest in anti-corruption schemes ahead of legislation that will punish domestic and foreign bribery, research has shown.

Click here for the full story

Managers struggling to relax on holiday

A survey of almost 2,500 managers by the Institute of Leadership & Management (ILM) also found that four in 10 return to work feeling more stressed than when they left.

Click here for the full story

House price watch

Your home may well be one of your major assets. Even if you are not planning on moving in the near future, it is always a good idea to keep abreast of the latest changes in the housing market.

Click here for the full story

One in six firms see regulation as biggest challenge

While the debate around health and safety regulation continues, a new survey has found around half of businesses don't think that local authorities understand their sector well enough to regulate them.

Click here for the full story

Bullying in the workplace

A new study has found that 21% of Brits feel bullied by their boss at work, whilst a further 28% feel picked on by a peer at work. However, only 8% admitted to reporting the incidents.

Click here for the full story

Click here to contact one of our experts

Click here to see our recently published articles

Kind regards,

Lawson Coppock & Hart

Tel: 0161 832 5944

Fax: 0161 834 4409

Email: info@lawsons-uk.com

Website: www.lawsons-uk.com